DYNASTY CHANGING

While Gov. Dolph Briscoe and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby have taken four-year oaths to their re-elected terms, Washington is a rumble with the crumbling of House seniority chairmanships.

First casualty was Cong. W. R. Poage, eight years chairman of House Agriculture Committee and third senior House congressman in his 20th term. Second was Cong. Hebert, of Louisiana, chairman of House Armed Services Committee.

Cong. Wright Patman, 81, and Texas representative since 1929, senior congressman and chairman of House Banking and Finance Committee, went down in an early Democratic caucus vote, but was restored to a final test of strength this week. Cong. Hays of Ohio, chairman of House Administration Committee, suffered similar experience.

Both Poage and Hebert chose not to appeal the liberalized Democratic caucus vote, but Patman may survive in a final showdown. The Waco congressman said he would support Cong. Foley, who would become agriculture committee chairman in the House.

Texas state executives are strengthened by four-year terms, the first since Reconstruction statehood in 1872, but the power of traditional Texas conservative Democratic House leaders is coming apart. And it probably was signaled by the power demise of Arkansas' Wilbur Mills, only 65, but whose private life made a shambles of his record as chairman of House Ways and Means.

A liberal Democratic caucus is the seat of the overthrow, and it is aimed, including Mills, at the Democratic conservative strongholds of the Southwest -- Arkansas, Texas and Louisiana.

While Texas state government has modernized to allow terms long enough for key incumbents to establish goals they can see reached, the Texas congressional delegation is compelled to analyze its vulnerability.

The seniority system now works against the South and Southwest. And it also may redraw conservatives among Democrats to Southern Republicans either to a national coalition or creation of even more of a two-party system in the South.

Younger candidates running for election, likely to be more liberal, will now assert their chances within the Democratic Party, finding a renewed liberal insurgency in the House membership at large, ala McGovern.

Both parties in the South are in effect paying for the impact of Watergate.

And from a line of influence that dates from Colonel House, who was advisor to Woodrow Wilson, through Uvalde's Nance Garner, Marlin's Senator Connally, Speaker Sam Rayburn, Senator through President Lyndon Johnson, cabinet member and Governor John Connally, the dynasty of Texas political continuity is changing.

It is passing from senior Texas congressmen, even from Wright Patman if he survives a final vote, to high levels of administrative influence in Democratic National Chair-

Bowman To Serve On Council Board

Dr. Betty Bowman of Cameron has been elected to the board of directors of the Central Texas Council on Alcoholism, according to Gene Howell, executive director of the council.

Dr. Bowman, staff psychologist in the alcohol treatment unit of the Veterans Administration Center at Temple, will be designated as one of the Milam County representatives on the board.

She replaces Cameron attorney Bob Ellett, who has resigned from the board because of the press of other business.

Firemen Answer Calls

Firemen were called out Monday night to a fire in the attic of the Narvie Caperton home. Flames were confined to a small area and damage was mostly by water and smoke. On Tuesday evening firemen answered a call to the Farm and Ranch Feed Store where a small motor had caught fire.

Jury Says Trigg Not Guilty

By Lloyd Albertson

A seven-man, five-woman jury in 20th District Court Tuesday afternoon found Jim Jones Trigg, Jr., not guilty in the murder of Richard Lee Freeman.

The verdict acknowledging self defense came within about two hours after they received the case shortly after noon.

In reaching their verdict, the jury evidently was convinced by Trigg's testimony when he said from the witness stand, in reply to the question by his attorney, Roy Minton, whether he had killed Richard Lee Freeman: "Yes, I killed him. I had to kill him."

Trigg made his statement about two hours after Minton had opened the defense case on Monday morning by recalling to the stand an earlier prosecution witness, Billy R. Hall, for cross-examination and to give a more detailed account of the robbery of the Citizens National Bank & Trust Company of Calvert on November 28, 1973.

Hall testified that he was asked to go to the farm near Gause when Freeman's body was discovered on February 23, 1974, and he identified him as the man who had robbed the Calvert bank.

R. A. (Rickle) Moehr and Michael Freeman, two other state witnesses, also were recalled to the stand by Minton for brief cross-examinations. Then Minton called Trigg to the witness stand to testify in his own defense.

Under his questioning, Trigg recounted these events that led up to the shooting of Freeman:

On February 1, 1973, he said, he was employed as manager of a Phillips service station in College Station at $65 to $700 a month take-home pay. He was married and he and his wife Pat have a baby son. The first day on the job he met Freeman, who came to the station often to drink beer which was sold there.

About noon on November 28, 1973, Freeman drove into the station and called him over to the car, and when he looked inside, he said: "I saw the most money I'd ever seen in my life." Rickie Moehr also was present and saw the grocery sack full of bills of different denominations. He said Freeman bragged: "Didn't think I could get it, did you?"

Several days later Freeman offered to loan him $2,000 and he accepted as he could use the money for Christmas presents. Shortly thereafter Freeman asked him to keep a brief case he said was full of money for him while he went to the hospital to "dry out" from his heavy drinking, and he took care of it until Freeman returned and reclaimed it.

Sometime in January, 1974, he said Freeman suddenly asked him to repay the $2,000 loan. He told him he could pay only $1,000, which he did, but Freeman began to insist on getting the rest of the money. It was then, Trigg said, Freeman told him the money was from the Calvert bank robbery, and added: "You are in this as deep as I am." He also began to suggest that Trigg help him rob another bank.

On February 18 Freeman came to the station in the morning and again insisted Trigg help him rob a bank. To get him away from the station, Trigg said he went with him in Freeman's car and suggested they go to his home near Gause and "talk it over." In the kitchen there they drank a beer, and while Freeman visited the bathroom, Trigg said he got his .38 cal revolver, loaded it and stuck it in his belt, since he was becoming afraid of Freeman. Returning, Freeman became increasingly angry when Trigg told him he would not help in any bank robbery, and Trigg quoted him as saying: "You yellow s. o. b., you will go, one way or another."

He then went outside, heading for his car in the driveway. Trigg said he realized Freeman intended to get his gun, which he knew he kept under the car seat, and he followed, warning him: "Richard, don't go for your gun." But when he saw Freeman open the car door and start to reach inside, he took the .38 cal from his belt and pulled the trigger three times. Freeman turned and ran towards a nearby chain link fence, fell over it, and Trigg said he saw he was dead.

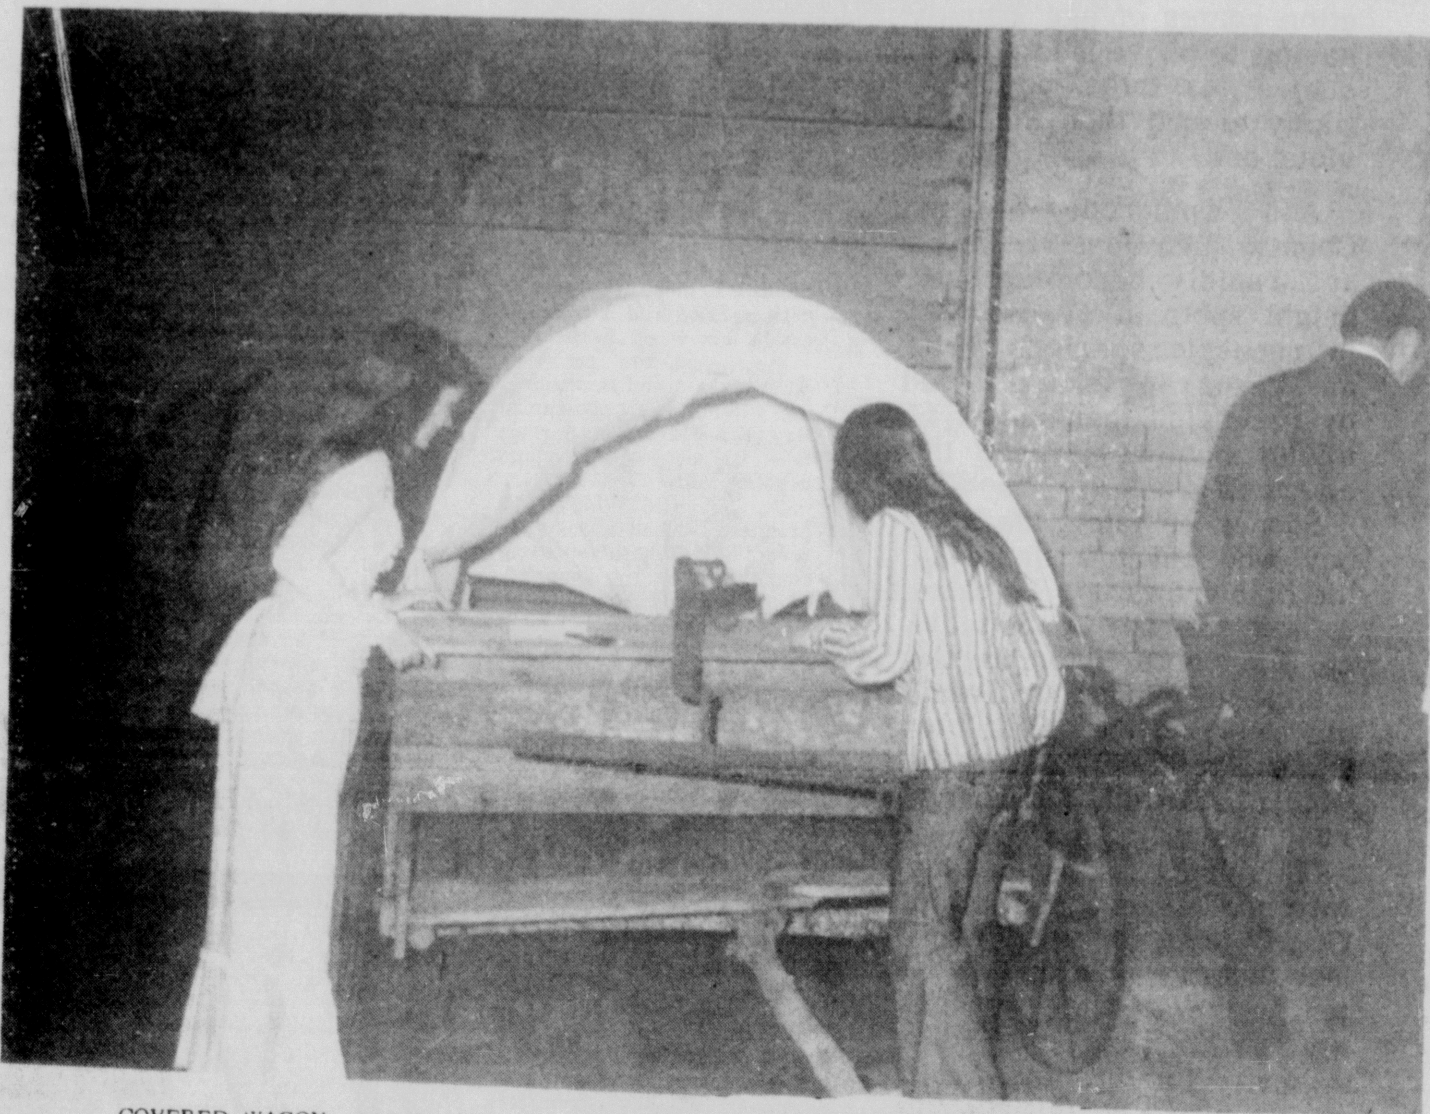

He admitted putting Freeman's body in the trunk of the car, driving down into the pasture and burying it in a shallow grave, and later in the afternoon driving the car back to Hearne and parking it back of a warehouse where it was found by police.

Two days later he drove his car to San Antonio, left it in the International airport parking lot and caught a plane to Odessa and a bus from there to Las Vegas where he went to work.

On cross-examination, Smith was unable to shake his statement, and Trigg insisted that he did not suspect Freeman's grocery sack of money came from the Calvert bank robbery and realized it only when Freeman told him it had.

After the jury returned the verdict of not guilty, Trigg's chief attorney, Roy Minton, said in a statement: "We are very grateful and very relieved."

Jurors were Mrs. G. H. Tucker, Mrs. Dan F. Balusek, John A. Fraser, Marcia Sulak, W. A. Nichols, Henry Purvis, Mrs. Elmo Patschke, Gilbert O. Meldo, Clyde Kamman, Mrs. Melba Peterson, John Lane Fisher, and Adrian I. Moore, Jr., who was jury foreman.

COVERED WAGON constructed for the school history fair drew its share of spectators in the National Guard Armory. The fair was put on by students in Yoe High, O. J. Thomas junior high and Ada Henderson schools.

Council Calls April City Election

City councilmen adopted a resolution calling for a city election April 1, with terms of three council members up for election.

They are Gene Lumpkin, place 3; Lawrence Zoltz, place 4; and Bob Clark, place 5.

Clark, mayor pro-tem, conducted the council meeting Tuesday in the absence of Mayor Gene Blake.

In other business council set a special meeting Thursday at 5:30 p.m. to interview applicants for the jobs of public works superintendent and heavy equipment operator.

A. W. McCullin, Community Development Agency executive director, explained that the city may be called on to furnish about $6,000 for the extended urban renewal project as the low bid for construction exceeds estimates. Council approved a co-operative agreement with the agency.

In answer to a call for bids for a city depository, both local banks stated that the best interests of the city could best be served by keeping arrangements as they are now.

The city will use certificates of deposit to earn interest on any idle funds.

Council also discussed getting residents to hook on to the sewer line when it is within 100 feet of the house, as provided in a city ordinance. Code inspector E. A. Bigbee will send out letters to violators.

Bergeron .. Faith In Alcoa Future

Fred P. Bergeron, Alcoa Texas area manager, addressed the Cameron Rotary Club last week, describing America's current economic condition and outlining the merits of a citizen's "get involved" campaign. District Judge Bill Wallace was program chairman.

Bergeron said economic conditions have affected the company's Milam County operations -- Rockdale Works -- but not as severely as it has a number of other Alcoa plants. He said about 65 people are on layoff locally but the plant's eight potlines are still operating. Only eight Cameron residents were affected.

"Layoffs have occurred throughout the area and nation recently and I can't honestly say the end is in sight," Bergeron explained. "I've been asked very frequently lately what the future holds for our industry but I can't answer because I just don't know. I do have faith in our company because we are well-managed and soundly based economically. I do not, however, have as much faith in the nation's economic picture."

"Nationally, government has been giving away benefits faster than it has raised taxes to pay for them. It has been trying to give everyone an adequate diet, good housing, good medical care and old age pensions."

"I'm not saying these things aren't necessary or deserving, but I do question the cost and how the government has paid for these increased benefits by spending money it really doesn't have. It's called deficit spending."

"Because of this deficit spending, the federal debt has risen to $475 billion dollars. It has jumped up 20 percent in the past four years. This amounts to more than a $2,000 debt for every American. And while we have an all-time record budget of about $300 billion for 1975, only 25 percent of that is left to be earmarked for this year's programs. The rest is locked in from previous budgets."

"These actions and policies are the primary cause of the serious inflation we are facing and have faced. Inflation is really a hidden tax we're forced to pay for government benefits we were unwilling to pay in taxes. You can't give everybody something for nothing -- somebody's got to pay the bill."

Despite the talk about corporate profits, Bergeron does not feel they are a serious inflationary factor.

"Corporate profits aren't big enough. In the overall picture, to have much effect," Bergeron pointed out. "Official government statistics show that corporate profits, after taxes, are less than one-tenth as big as wages, salaries and other employee compensation. In fact, profits are not as high as they were 10 years ago."

With increases in wages and salaries, caused by inflation, the government has been able to take away a larger share in taxes and these higher taxes used to pay for big government spending programs have cut down the amount of money people can save. That's the reason money is so scarce, Bergeron said.

"Another reason money is so scarce is because government has borrowed so much," he exclaimed. "The resulting shortage has driven interest rates so high people can't afford to borrow to buy homes and industry can't borrow to expand."

In conclusion, Bergeron said, "We live in a profit-making economy. It has produced the highest standard of living for the greatest number of people the world has ever seen. Let's repair it, not wreck it. Increased savings and better profit opportunities will produce more good jobs, faster, than government work projects or any other method."

Opportunity, Failure, Growth...

One sure sign of an older generation's self-doubt is jealousy for the next one coming on.

They tend to agree on the grandchildren. They solemnize great-grandchildren. They atrophy about the fourth generation, except for the rare type which treats each generation as the first.

Cities, counties, states, countries are much the same. Modification of any working system is suspected, simply because a working system's weaknesses, if not glaring and some even if they are glaring, are ignored.

The agrarian economy of this part of Texas was doing fine until events slammed into the realities of the latter 20th century.

The old statistics are now familiar: more information is accumulating in a decade or two since 1940 than all prior recorded history revealed.

Cycles of prosperity, recession are quicker to get into, when factors anticipate them, and they are quicker gotten out of if realities are met.

But the aging process soon erases self-doubt in the desire for others to carry on, if not in name, in style and health. The younger generation comes of age, usually having to prove it is no less subject to folly, no more likely to quit than the previous one.

And Cameron, Milam County, and Central Texas are rapidly becoming the bright spots in Texas, even in recession periods, even as Texas is less affected by recession than industrialized centers around the country.

Sooner or later, the little boy who put his finger in the dike grows up. He takes up a repair kit or he takes up a detonator, stopping the trickle of change in some places along the way, blowing gaping holes in it somewhere else to let change roar through.

This process is well underway in Cameron and Milam County and Central Texas. The older generation accedes to it; the younger wonders why it took so long to a maturity full of magnificent opportunity and failure and growth.

They Have The Stuff...

We congratulate Danny Kelley and Ronnie Bennett, of Cameron, for one reason. They have the stuff.

Bennett has been named to the first team defensive squad for 1974 of Class AA football, the only Yoeman to make the first team this year or in recent history, from an outstanding quarter-finalist club.

And Kelley is planning a benefit piano concert for a projected park in Cameron, taking time out from a busy doctoral schedule at Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore, Md.

Kelley has been playing piano since he was about 3, a natural ear and talent he is culturing for a career in music.

Bennett, a junior, is a 6-foot, 7-inch center on a Yoe basketball squad which well may go higher in post season playoffs this year than the football team. He played end for the grid Yoemen, among some fine talent, most of which will be back next year. He has been practicing basketball for years on the outdoor court at Yoe High and playing since junior high school. His size and strength are apparent.

Your Herald stands for a lot of things, some of which this part of the world may find difficult to understand. Your Herald has always stood for excellence, has always stood with people who do things because they have the courage and skill to do them.

Many have excelled for this community or after they have left Milam County and Central Texas.

Kelley and Bennett are among them. For one reason: They have the stuff.

Legislature Starts Session With A Bang

The 64th Texas Legislature started with a bang and a burst of action last week.

State Senators set new records for speed in organizing while the House named Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake its new speaker and debated rules.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, as promised, named a complete roster of Senate standing committees on the first day of the session, January 14. Only changes in chairmanships were Sens. Don Adams of Jasper moving up to head the housekeeping appropriations panel and Sen. Pete Snelson of Midland taking over the intergovernmental relations committee.

The Senate went to work almost immediately on a proposed emergency pay raise for state employees, while both houses advanced a measure to extend unemployment compensation benefits four weeks and gain $5 million in federal funds.

Clayton, who defeated Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur for the speakership, delayed naming of his committees until this week, while he concentrated on getting rules changes he wants.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe submitted lawmakers a long list of emergency measures for immediate consideration, including the pay raise for state workers and $80 million in stop gap aid for schools. Other than the emergency measures, and rules adoption, little action is expected on the floor of either house until after the inauguration of Briscoe and Hobby to second terms Tuesday (January 21).

Briscoe prepared long-range recommendations for delivery to a joint session of the House and Senate Wednesday (January 22).

PRODUCTION STILL "WIDE OPEN"—February is the 35th straight month of wide open statewide oil allowable.

Texas Railroad Commission once again set a 100 per cent production order.

Meanwhile, independent oilmen said the decline in Texas oil production has begun a "big turnaround."

Frank Pitts of Dallas said 60,000 to 70,000 wells can be drilled a year instead of the present 30,000. There are lots of places to drill oil wells, but the cost is going to be high, said Pitts.

Crude prices should average $90 to $100 per barrel to encourage drilling the maximum number of wells, said the Dallas oilman.

INVESTIGATION FUNDED—A Senate sub-committee was given a budget to begin an investigation of questioned Southwestern Bell Telephone Company operations in Texas.

The Senate Administration Committee approved a $27,832 allowance to hire utility rate experts and two investigators to look into allegations of wire-tapping, campaign slush fund contributions and keeping of dual sets of books (one for rate cases).

Sen. Ron Clower of Garland, chairman of the Senate Sub-Committee on Consumer Affairs, said the panel already has an extensive file of leads. Clower said he hopes to have the investigation completed before the legislative session ends June 2.

COMMISSION SIZE BLAMED—A House Liquor Regulation Investigation Committee blasted the Alcoholic Beverage Commission for forcing resignation of ABC Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr.

Had the commission been a nine-member agency instead of a three-member body, one member would not have been able to "carry out a relentless campaign" to get rid of Humphreys, the committee concluded. Commissioner R. L. Thornton launched the effort to fire Humphreys and finally convinced Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville to join in asking resignation.

COURTS SPEAK—A divided (5-4) Supreme Court threw out a mandatory nickel-a-ton assessment of grain sorghum growers to finance a program of farm product promotion and research.

Third Court of Civil Appeals refused to overturn the will of an alcoholic who left most of his estate to two sons by his first marriage and little to his estranged second wife.

APPOINTMENTS—Some 578 interim appointments by Gov. Dolph Briscoe to offices, state boards and agencies were sent to the State Senate for confirmation.

Dear editor:

Now as I understand it, there's sort of a race on between the Democratic Congress and Republican President Ford to see who can get credit for cutting taxes this year to fight the recession. Mr. Ford wants to give a 16 billion dollar rebate to tax payers and Congress is working on a slightly different figure. Both would come to about a 10 percent refund on your 1974 income tax.

In trying times like these the country needs complete harmony without partisan bickering and I have figured out a plan to achieve it.

You see, as everybody knows, not only do we have a recession but we also have inflation. It's a two-pronged problem and we ought to attack it on both prongs.

Therefore I have come up with a solution: let Mr. Ford give me a 10 percent refund, and to keep peace and quiet in Washington let Congress give me one too.

I will then take Mr. Ford's refund and fight the recession by spending it as fast as I can. At the same time, I will take Congress' refund and sock it away in the bank to fight inflation.

There's no sense in doing things half-way. What have we gained if we whip inflation and wind up with more inflation, or if we whip inflation and wind up with a depression? As any economist will tell you we've got to spend and save at the same time to do the job, and two separate refunds are the answer.

However, there's no use being short-sighted about this. Too long have we depended on Washington to do everything. If two tax refunds from Washington will get the 911 rolling in this two-pronged battle, think how still more momentum could be added on the local level.

Why don't Milam County officials join in this recession-inflation fight and give me two tax refunds? What's the school hung on? The town? Why can't the state legislature in Austin get in on it, too?

We've got to stop this notion of depending entirely on Washington. If two checks from up there will help, think how much seven or eight from down here will help.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

AG OPINIONS—Atty. Gen. John Hill held a requirement for reports of child abuse is applicable to the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, without regard to conflicting provisions.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- Development of parks and recreational facilities by municipal utility districts is constitutionally permissible.

- Confidentiality of faculty performance evaluation cannot be maintained against an individual's right to access to information which is the basis for government action affecting him.

County Agent's Notes

Diverse Crops May Aid Farmer

By Bill McCutchen
Farmers and ranchers have in the past been able to weather a lot of rough times, because they have been faced with depressed prices all of their lives and are used to coping with them.

This time though there is something new. Inflation has been much worse on farm and ranch inputs than in any other segment of the economy that I am familiar with, making the breakeven price for every commodity skyrocket.

In the past few years grain sorghum, cotton, and livestock have at times shown promise of returns that the farmers' city cousin has received for years on investments, but all of these bright spots have been of short duration.

What of 1975? With the cotton and beef cattle disaster, the only ray of hope seems to be grain sorghum and many farmers and others are afraid that grain sorghum prices may be broken this summer and fall. If this happens farmers will be in a desperate situation.

Traditional cropping patterns will be broken as farmers prepare for 1975. A considerable amount of cotton acreage in the county will be planted to grain sorghum due to the market outlook.

Quite a few farmers have said that they are going to go with grain sorghum entirely, while others say they will plant some cotton but shift production toward grain sorghum. Still others are looking to other crops such as sunflowers for alternate cash crops and several hundred acres will likely be planted in the county this spring.

I don't have the answer and I don't think anyone else has but diversification has always made sense to me.

PLANTING TIME NEAR

It's less than two months until grain sorghum planting time begins even if the weather outside or the fields don't look like its that near.

Most farmers haven't been in the fields for several months and open weather is needed badly to control winter weeds and put down fertilizer applications.

This is not the year to skimp on fertilizer applications. We will have good soil moisture and attractive potential prices for grain sorghum so a sound fertilizer program is essential.

The best way to know what you need without spending money unnecessarily is a soil test.

In terms of disposable income, the average income of farm people lags seven percent behind that of non-farm people, said Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

TFB Plans Conference In Austin

AUSTIN
The Texas Farm Bureau will conduct a joint Legislative Conference and 1975 Membership Kick-Off here Jan. 28-29 at the Driskill Hotel, according to Carroll Chaloupka of Dalhart, president of the state farm organization.

Invited to the meeting are county Farm Bureau presidents, and chairmen of legislative and membership committees. There are 210 organized county Farm Bureaus in the state.

Registration will begin at 10:30 a.m. on Jan. 28 and the two-day program will be concluded with a membership kick-off luncheon next day. The TFB, which ended its 1974 year with an all-time high of 166,216 member families enrolled, will be trying for 175,000 members in 1975. Another goal is to have all of the 210 counties gain in members. Every county has shown a gain for the past two years.

Highlights of the Legislative Conference, which will be held on Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning, will be discussions on legislative techniques and speeches by legislators.

Buy Baling Wire Now

AUSTIN--Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has advised farmers and ranchers to buy baling wire now to prevent shortages during periods of peak demand.

White said the two major suppliers of baling wire to Texas, Colorado Fuel and Iron and Armco Steel Co., are working at full capacity but are likely to cut back on production if the flow to market is not steady.

"If this happens, there won't be enough baling wire to go around when everyone wants it during the haying season in the spring and summer," the commissioner said.

He added that it appears unlikely that the price of baling wire will drop later in the year.

Naman Predicts High Costs

Texas Farmers Union president Jay Naman of Waco predicted that if President Ford's energy recommendations were passed into law that they would inevitably result in higher food costs.

Naman said that the tax on imported crude which would result in a 10-15 percent increase in the price of petroleum products would add hundreds of millions of dollars to the cost of producing food and fiber, which would have to be passed on to the consumer.

"Since petroleum products comprise a major cost in the production of food and fiber both from the standpoint of energy and fertilizer, the President's recommendation to tax imported crude oil and natural gas would immediately result in a tightening of the cost-price squeeze for agriculture and eventually result in higher food costs," Naman said. Naman called for a mandatory fuel allocation program which would provide agricultural producers with adequate fuel supplies at reasonable prices.

"President Ford could conserve millions of barrels of petroleum by imposing tough allocations on petroleum used by the synthetic fiber industry. The continued unlimited production of synthetic fibers is a wasteful use of energy. Farmers and ranchers need these markets for superior natural fiber and both those producers and consumers would be served by a reduction in synthetic manufacture," Naman said.

Turning to the President's State of the Union message, the farm organization leader said that he was disappointed that President Ford did not emphasize agriculture and the serious economic problems of farmers and ranchers. He pointed out that many of the economic problems of the nation stem from the lack of incentives to farmers and ranchers to produce for export markets.

"Our great agricultural capacity in the United States can be called upon to lessen our economic problems by improving our balance of payments. Apparently, the president is not informed that present federal farm program fails to encourage adequate production and to give farmers and ranchers the kind of assurances that are necessary for an expanding agriculture and stable markets," Naman said.

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture

Be On The Lookout... Fertilizer Concern... Sheep and Lamb Feeding Declines... Second Lowest In 20 Years.

Figures that should help you to decide what and how much to plant are to be released this week. Included will be the crop intentions planting report on a national and state level. This will involve planting projections for major crops including grain sorghum, cotton, corn and other crops. Study it closely; it should give you an insight into what farmers will be planting this year.

Also study the grain stocks in position report, which is expected to be released this week. That will show you the amount of various grains on hand.

Still another report you might want to look at closely will be the 1974 report for Texas crops. This report was recently issued and will update previous preliminary reports on Texas farm production.

These and other reports about farm production are becoming of more and more interest. Not only are producers taking a closer look at them, but agribusinessmen as well as consumers are paying attention to them since they will give an insight into production plans and thus prospective total production of various commodities during 1975.

Producers can use these reports to help them determine their own production plans for 1975. For current reports, write the Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

FERTILIZER industry spokesmen are concerned about the amount of fertilizer that will be needed to produce this year's crops.

An increase is expected for feed grains including corn and grain sorghum. Although a decrease in acres is anticipated for cotton, it is not expected to be enough to offset other increases.

The inventory of fertilizers has also been decreased compared to previous years.

QUAPAW cotton

GOOD PRODUCTION

Quapaw cotton has a consistent high lint yield with approximately 85 pounds per bale more seed production than most other varieties.

GOOD MICRONAIRE

Quapaw's early maturity gives consistent good fiber with micronaire between 3.8 and 4.5 (well within market specifications). Quapaw's micronaire is an important price factor in today's market.

GOOD FIBER

Quapaw cotton matures early resulting in consistency of fiber elongation. Staple length 31/32 to 34/32. Quapaw is a mature fiber of high natural luster. The mills like it.

GOOD COLD TOLERANCE

Reports from growers (Texas Valley to High Plains) say that Quapaw can withstand more adverse conditions than most varieties resulting in "less plan, over." Quapaw is bred for "once over harvesting" and is adaptable for either picker or stripper.

Accident Study Puts Blame On Driver

More than four out of every five automobile accidents--32 percent--are caused by "human factors," mostly driver errors, according to a massive new study of 1,305 accidents by an Indiana University research group for the U. S. Department of Transportation.

Vehicular factors, such as brakes and tires, caused only 4.2 percent of the accidents, the researchers found. The only tires involved in any of the accidents were under-inflated or bald. Environmental factors, such as obstructed field of vision and slick roads, accounted for the rest of the accidents.

"This important report should help put the highway safety picture back into perspective," said Malcolm R. Lovell, Jr., chairman of the Tire Industry Safety Council. "The main effort now should be to help drivers and improve highways, not to order more expensive changes in automobiles and tires."

The landmark report, called a "Tri-Level Study of the Causes of Traffic Accidents," was made by the Institute for Research in Public Safety of Indiana University under an $880,000 contract with DOT. It covers work done in 1973, the first year of a continuing three-year program to determine the real causes of auto accidents and to recommend "counter-measures" to DOT.

The four leading human factors in accidents are improper lookout, particularly in intersections; excessive speed; inattention; and improper evasive action, the report said.

The leading environmental factors are views obstructions, slick roads, and roadway design problems.

The most frequent vich-ual factors are gross brake failure, and underinflated and bald tires. Properly maintained tires did not cause any of the accidents, however.

"It is interesting to note that neither tire nor wheel failures (due to manufacturing defects) were cited as even possible causes of any of the 1,305 accidents," the report declared.

The tri-level Indiana University study is by far the most comprehensive of the several investigations of auto accidents conducted to date for DOT.

On the first level, investigators analyzed police records of 1,305 accidents in Monroe County, Indiana, which is "representative" of the whole U.S., they said.

At the second level, "on site" investigations of 836 of the accidents were conducted.

Finally, "in depth" investigations were made of 215 accidents by "multi-disciplinary teams."

Food Still A Bargain

AUSTIN--Though retail food prices advanced 11.2 percent in the United States last year, a recent survey conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Foreign Agricultural Service revealed seven countries exceeding this increase.

"This survey shows that food is still a bargain in the United States," said Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

He pointed out that prices have climbed 41.9 percent in Brazil, 26.2 percent in Japan, 21.6 percent in Italy, 21.3 percent in Mexico, 17.3 percent in the United States, 15.7 percent in Canada and 12.6 percent in France.

Sweden, the Netherlands, Belgium, Germany and Denmark all had lower rates of increase than the U. S.

Milk was selling for 17 cents a quart in London and 62 cents in Tokyo.

Cameron Girl Scouts To Conduct Annual Sale

The annual cookie sale, conducted by the Lone Star Girl Scout Council, will get underway at 4 p.m. on January 24. More than 4,000 scouts will participate in the sale throughout the Council's 18-county area of Central Texas.

Registered Junior, Cadette, and Senior Scouts will make cookies available to the public through Feb. 17. Each box sells for $1.25.

Profits from the cookie sale comprise a major source of revenue for the extension of Scouting to more than 6,900 girls between the ages of six and seventeen throughout the Council. Each troop also receives profits from every box it sells.

In addition, individual awards will be represented on the basis of the number of boxes each scout sells. Scouts may earn either cook patches, or camperships to day camp or summer established camp.

The Scouts will sell four varieties of cookies which include oxford creme (chocolate and vanilla), scot-teas (shortbread), chocolate mints, and savannahs (peanut butter).

These cookies may be purchased from Troop No. 403 which is composed of 20 girls and led by Mrs. Derwood Cobb.

Junior Historians Hold Fair

The annual History Fair was held Friday, January 17, at the National Guard Armory.

Projects were judged before 12 noon by a panel of judges consisting of several people from the Texas Education Agency and the State Historical Society in Austin. At this time ribbons were distributed.

Students displayed their projects to visitors who stopped to view the collections, maps, and other various handiwork.

Several projects displayed at the fair will be taken to the State Junior Historian Contest in San Antonio in April to compete for further honors.

Party Honors Neinast

Jim Neinast was honored recently on his 92nd birthday with a party given by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Callaway. Members of his family came from San Antonio, Dallas, Burton, Rosebud, Chilton, Eddy, and Bryan.

Mr. Neinast came to Cameron in 1907 and entered the grocery business where he remained until his retirement in 1953.

Thursday, Jan. 9 "The Lord Forsake Not Your People," was taken from David the Psalmist. Gene Smitherman led the singing and Mrs. Denton House served as pianist. Mrs. Sharon McCullin sang a special entitled "Wonderful Wonderful Jesus."

Maxie and Linda Morgan officiated at Sunday services Jan. 12. Our residents enjoyed them very much.

Songs of Yesteryear, a special program was enjoyed by 24 residents on Jan. 15. Mrs. Sharon McCullin and Mrs. Mildred House thrilled the audience with their rendition of "Dixie," "Home Sweet Home," "Old Black Joe," and many others. Mrs. McCullin sang "When You and I were Young, Maggie" and Master Brian, son of Mr. McCullin, stole the show with "Jesus Loves Me" and his version of "Yankee Doodle Dandy."

The patients are looking forward to a birthday party on Sunday afternoon, Jan. 19, to be given by the Ladies of the Maraksville Catholic Church. The party is to honor the birthdays of Fred Taegel, Mrs. Hedwig Marek, Bill Marek, Charlie White, Leona White, Mrs. Carrie Rudder, Mrs. Laura Stevenson, and Mrs. James Watson.

Oil-Rich Iran Turns New Corner Each Week

Oil-rich Iran seems to turn a new corner every week.

Rising market prices for "black gold" have created a windfall, enabling the Middle East country to introduce several innovations.

"What distinguishes Iran is the speed and vision with which she has put the bonanza to work--not only in the traditional form of foreign investments or Swiss bank holdings, but also in the versatile hands of the Iranians themselves," writes William Graves in the January National Geographic.

Cultivates Many Fields
Against the day when her underground wealth runs dry, Iran has branched out into such diverse fields as petrochemicals, mining, machine tools, irrigation, systems, ocean farming, synthetic fibers, and nuclear energy.

As the Shah of Iran told Graves: "Your people in the West find it hard to believe us when we say that in ten years we will be another France or Germany. But I can assure you it is no exaggeration: Our young people will inherit a different country."

Increasing political freedom has not come quickly enough for a highly vocal student group, especially those studying abroad. They criticize the Iranian government for repression.

A history professor at Tehran University goes along with the evident majority of Iranians who back their monarch's methods.

"We're in the process of peaceful revolution," he says, "and look at the results so far--land reform, industrialization, vastly increased income, and emancipation of women from the age-old tyranny of Islamic custom."

"Just recently the Shah decreed free education and medical care for all Iranians. My students are simply to young to grasp the enormity of these changes. Itell them, 'Have patience--one revolution at a time.'"

Tehran Shows Contrasts
Contrasts of past and present are readily apparent in Iran where a visitor can admire skyscrapers and a new multimillion-dollar hospital, but still see raw sewage flowing through open ditches along some streets.

Lodged against the base of the towering Elburz Mountains in the north, the capital resembles some enormous earth slide spilling slowly southward onto Iran's great desert plateau.

Beneath a colorless expanse of flat-roofed houses and office buildings fashioned from concrete or sun-dried brick, the growing city crowds 3,500,000 people into 85 square miles.

To the luckless newcomer in Tehran traffic, every resident seems to own a car and to be bent on destruction. In a giant free-for-all suggesting a demolition derby, Tehranis collide some 65,000 times a year, happily more at the cost of pride than human life.

"At times," says Grave, "the blend of Eastern culture and Western technology yields delightful results. One morning on Pahlavia Avenue in the shopping district I saw a young girl in a flowing veil worn the centuries past by Iranian women, with a T-shirt beneath it announcing 'Apollo 12.'"

NNA Conference Will Highlight Energy, Economy

WASHINGTON, D. C. Energy, the economy and the new Congress, areas which have recently assumed critical scrutiny by the public, are among the topics to be covered during the National Newspaper Association's 1975 Government Affairs Conference, announced Walter E. Grunfeld, NNA president.

This 14th Annual Conference will be held March 12-15. Headquarters hotel is Stouffer's National Center Inn across the Potomac River from here in Arlington, Virginia and adjacent to Washington National Airport.

Rep. Al Ullman (D-Ore.) chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, will address publishers at a Thursday, March 13, breakfast meeting in the Dirksen House Office Building. Congressman Ullman's address will begin nearly three days of briefings by Congressional and government officials.

He will be introduced by J. Alan Cramer, publisher of the Wayne (Neb.) Herald and chairman of the NNA Government Affairs Conference Committee.

William Simon, Secretary of the Treasury and former administrator of the Federal Energy Office, will speak on the economy at the headquarters hotel on Friday, March 14 at lunch.

NNA has also invited President Ford and Vice President Rockefeller to address the conference.

In addition to the briefings, an evening reception is scheduled on Thursday, March 13, to provide publishers with the opportunity to meet with members of Congress and Administration officials.

In Germany, a light that goes out by itself is a death omen.

JAMES HUNT

Airman James Hunt, son of Mrs. Nancy H. Hunt of Cameron, has graduated at Lackland AFB, Tex., from the U. S. Air Force security policeman course conducted by the Air Training Command.

The airman, who was trained in security and law enforcement, is being assigned to McConnell AFB, Kan., for duty with a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

Airman Hunt is a 1974 graduate of Yoe High School.

Air Force Reports 78,000 Recruited

U. S. Air Force Recruiting Service quietly closed a successful door on 1974, its 20th anniversary year, after enlisting more than 78,000 young men and women. All regular recruiting goals for the year were reached or exceeded.

American Adds Pilot Training

American Airlines is adding another program to their training schedule at the James Connally Airport at Texas State Technical Institute in Waco.

Assistant to the vice-president of training operation for American Sam Page said James Connally was chosen for several reasons.

"We were already operating out of James Connally for out other training programs. The local traffic in the area is good because it's easy to get in and out of the airport. Besides, we like the Waco area," explained Page.

American Airline pilot Ron Lueck will be instructing classes in Cessna Citation operations. The Citation is one of Cessna's twin jet planes that is used by many corporations. Lueck is now on special assignment with American Airlines.

Lueck was an instructor in the Air Force at Del Rio for five years before

A Chinese god was said to be able to produce plants with golden poems written on their leaves.

"Will there be enough electric power this winter in the area served by TP&L?"

Texas Power & Light has the generating plants, the personnel and the lines to produce and deliver all the power its customers will need. One more "ingredient" is essential. Fuel.

All but one of TP&L's plants now in operation were designed and built to use natural gas as a fuel. If it should become necessary for TP&L's suppliers of gas to curtail deliveries, these plants would continue to operate with fuel oil stored at the plants for just such a condition.

A very large generating plant located near Fairfield, Texas uses lignite-coal as a fuel. This plant is supplied with lignite on a continuous basis from deposits near the plant. In addition, there is a reserve stockpile of lignite sufficient to operate the plant at maximum capacity for approximately two weeks.

Seven other lignite-fueled generating units are now under construction. A nuclear-fueled plant is scheduled to begin supplying power in 1980.

TP&L expects to provide adequate electric power to all its customers throughout this winter... and in the future but we ask your wise use of electricity to help assure that there will be no shortage for anyone.

Sports Spotlight

By Forrest Guess

The Yoemen backers have been seeing some interesting halftimes. Seventh grade coach, Roy Knight, has been working with the sixth graders and during the halftimes of the Yoe varisty games, the sixth graders have a chance to perform.

It gives the sixth graders a chance to perform in front of crowds and could be an advantage for the young ones next year. There is a program for young roundbblers Little Dribblers. The organization is based on three leagues, B League for the 8 to 9 year olds, A League for the 10 and 11 year olds, and then the senior league for 12 and 13 year olds.

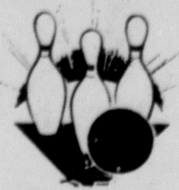

The organizations base of office is in Levelland and the program offers an area tournament then the winner advances to a regional tournament. The regional winner will then compete in the state playoffs and the winners will then compete in a National tournament.

The organization offers a great deal in the development of the young people. It develops coordination, and basketball is one of the few sports that seems to help develop the coordination for the growing youths. Excitement is a quality found on watching the youngsters in a competitive situation. I think it great that the young ones have a chance to compete, and I hope a serious look into a Little Dribblers organization will occur.

The Texas Sport Writers Association counted ballots Saturday and announced the Class AA elite. Ronnie Bennett was the only Central Texas player to be named to the prestigious list. Spearman, who was whipped by the Newton Eagles, placed five on the first teams. Newton was only able to place one, Thomas Dickerson, the Eagles' fine lineman. It seems unusual that the team that won the state title 56-26 only placed one player while the loser set the pace with 5.

In visiting with Coach Ken Poole, he had the following remarks about workouts and the game last week: "The workouts haven't been as good as they were earlier. We just haven't been working out as we should. A lot of things are happening and we can't get our minds on the workouts. In our game against Elgin I thought that our first half performance was poor. We weren't rebounding like we should have. Getting the ball around was also weak. Elgin was quicker than we thought. Plus they were really fired up. It was a have to game for them. They lost one game to Hearne and they had to beat us." The second half was better but we didn't run our offense. It's going to be extremely important that we run an offense. We will run our offense and I think it will help our game. We were really happy to come out on top."

Bennett Among Best In AA

The Texas Sports Writers Association named their choice for the elite listing of All-staters. Included on the list was Yoe High's Ronnie Bennett.

Bennett, 6'7", 215 junior was the only Central Texas player to be named as the state's best. Ronnie, who wore the number 85, which has gained recognition from all sport writers in the state.

The highlight came when Bennett was listed as the states best defensive end. Bennett was named to the All-District, All-Centex and Super-Centex rosters.

Last year Bennett sported an All-District title in basketball and has played superb basketball thus far this season.

Bennett was a unanimous choice for the state selection and being a junior it is really an outstanding honor.

Others listed to the states best listing included Billy Sims, who likely will be the most highly recruited football player in the state.

Yoe Nips Hearne For First Place

The Cameron Yoemen took undisputed first place Tuesday night when they outshot Hearne, 61-54. Both teams went into the game with an unblemished district record of 6 and 0.

The Yoemen shot 43 percent the first quarter and took a 14-8 lead over the Eagles. By the halftime intermission the Eagles closed the gap to two points.

The Yoemen owned the offensive and defensive boards in the first half of play by dragging down 24 rebounds. Bennett and Jafus White led the rebounding effort the first half with both coming down with 7.

In the second quarter the Yoemen sank a warm 50 percent from the field but managed to hold on to the slim lead.

In the third quarter of action the Yoemen cagers stretched their lead by hitting 56 percent from the field. By the buzzer the Yoemen commanded a six point advantage. Ronnie Bennett had the honor of leading the pace for the scoring attack by blazing the net for 21 points. Harry Brooks followed in the attack by dumping in 13.

The Yoemen were able to maintain their lead throughout the fourth quarter and by the final buzzer had gained the 7 point advantage. The Yoemen hit only 8 field goals out of 20 tries but the effort was good enough to claim the lead in the first half of the district loop.

During the night the Yoemen went to the free throw line 20 times and connected with 9 while the Eagles walked on the line for 10 points out of 20 tries.

Bennett continued to bring down rebounds throughout the night and tallied a total of 17.40 led the rebounding attack.

The Yoe roundballers will start the second half of the loop this Friday night against the Caldwell Hornets.

In freshman action the Yoemen went down in defeat, 57-48. In the first quarter the Yoemen were only able to penetrate the hoop for 4 points to the Eagle's 12. By the halftime buzzer the Eagles took a 13 point advantage. Errol Spells attack of 13 points couldn't set the winning pace and the freshmen suffered the district loss. Curtis Wise followed in the scoring attack for the Yoemen by dumping in 11.

Coach Huffman's junior varsity squad scored a victory over the Hearne Eagles, 50-46. The JV cagers led throughout the game with a 6 point lead over the Eagles. By the halftime buzzer the Yoe JV took a 9 point advantage. The Yoe scoring attack was led by David Kornegay with 15 and James Walker tallied 14 for the evening. Joe Smitherman also hit double figures by dumping in 10 for the winning effort.

The Yoe JV cagers went to the give me line 6 times and penetrating the hoop for 2. The Eagles went to the grace line 27 times hitting 10.

All Yoe High teams will be playing Caldwell to mark the second round of the district loop.

Powder Puff Tilt Promises Fun

The senior and sophomore girls will clash with the junior and freshman girls Thursday, January 23, with kickoff time scheduled for 7 p.m. The game will be played at Yoe Field.

The girls on both teams have worked hard in preparation for the game which will be sponsored by the senior class. The money raised will help send the seniors on their annual trip.

Coaches for the senior-sophomore teams are: Gene Kopriva and Jeff Smitherman head coaches, with Bruce Zarosky, Willie Bell and Gary Tryd and Mike Muecke assisting.

The junior - freshman will be coached by Jo Smitherman and Ronnie Bennett, head coaches and Michael White, Brian Cobb, David Kornegay, Jeff Simmons, Mark Fritz and Stephen Lewis is assisting.

A spectacular half-time performance is scheduled as students from all classes will participate in the marching band. Other attractions will include beautiful cheerleaders, skillful twirlers and a spirited pep squad.

Pre-sale tickets will be sold throughout the week by seniors and will be 75¢ for students and 1.50 for adults. Tickets at the gate will be $1.50.

Everyone is asked to attend the powder puff game and to support their favorite team. The money raised will go for the annual senior trip.

Murray-Go-Round

By Tom Murray

WHOA, DAVE:

Dave Wohl is, to most Texans, a non-person. They simply do not know him. But that is understandable. Wohl, you see, is a mediocre starting guard for the Houston Rockets, the National Basketball Association team.

And how can you be more anonymous?

Wohl probably knows fewer Texans than recognize him. But that didn't seem to bother the New Jersey bigot one bit. All he did was get up at an NBA Player Representative meeting, with ample reporters, and blame poor Houston attendance on "middle-class Racism."

In other words, according to Dave Wohl, those Houston Rednecks are such clods they don't appreciate good professional basketball because it is played, for the most part, by non-whites.

Horsefeathers! Thirty-five to 50,000 of those Houston clods consistently flock to the Astrodome to watch the Oilers battle NFL opponents.

The Oilers, nor any of their NFL foes, are exactly Lily White. Pro football players are, you know, about 70 percent black.

So, Bigot Dave, when 2,500 show up to watch your basketball team play, those missing are telling you something.

And it has nothing to do with color. Unless you can somehow color winning. Or losing.

LOU, TOO!

Louie Kelcher, the All-America SMU middle guard, is obviously a sincere young man. But, if he was quoted right in a Houston newspaper, he's also misguided. He was quoted as saying, "It used to be that the best players (in SWC) went to the schools that spent the most recruiting them. But I don't think it's that way anymore." Intimidation, at least by the writer, is that the successful schools all buy their players. Taint so. Some do. But not all.

Will some SWC schools never learn that certain football players make fools of them? SMU jumps up with a great deluge of press releases that Paul Rice, "Texas' most sought running back" has agreed to join the Pony football team. The ink isn't dry before Ric, of Lewisville, Texas, announces in Los Angeles that he is signing a National Letter of Intent with USC.

THE McALISTERS

Folk Singers At Special Services

The Lorne McAlisters, of Alberta, Canada, will be sharing their ministry with the congregation of First Assembly of God, Cameron, this Sunday, Jan. 26.

Services will be at 10:50 a.m. and 6 p.m., according to the Rev. Darryl R. Proffitt, pastor of the congregation.

The McAlisters are gospel folk singers whose sing-along style is not only exciting but allows the audience to participate in the scripture songs, the old hymns and the contemporary message music of today.

The McAlisters have ministered from London, England to the Arctic Circle, throughout Canada and the central United States.

First Assembly of God is located at 1511 N. Houston in Cameron, call 697-3924 for more information. Both services are open to the public.

Tuesday Ephesians 4: 1-6

Wednesday Psalms 26: 8-12

Thursday Acts 10: 34-41

Friday Exodus 34: 27-31

Saturday John 3: 14-18

We all feel that way at times. And, tragically, there are some folks who feel that way much of the time.

But while the world in which we live leaves a lot to be desired, it's our world. And life in that world is pretty much what man himself has made of it.

The God who created us and our universe had some excellent plans for life as it should be. They are clearly set forth in the Bible whose writing He inspired. And they have become the spiritual blueprint of constructive living for millions of believers.

As the earth continues its endless turning, search for your goals in faith—not escape. . . in the Word of God—not the words of cynics.

Santa Fe Industries, Inc. plans to spend $285 million for capital improvements during 1975, John S. Reed, chairman and chief executive officer, announced today. This compares with estimated expenditures in 1974 of $250 million, including approximately $20 million for locomotives under lease. About $215 million will be spent in 1975 by the railway. Expenditures in 1974 were approximately $160 million. The natural resources division plans expenditures of about $54 million, compared with $62 million last year, and the real estate division expects to spend $12 million, a $2 million increase over 1974. The balance will be divided among trucking, pipeline, and miscellaneous operations, Reed said.

The railway's program includes 89 new diesel locomotive units and 3,600 freight cars scheduled for delivery in 1975, and 80 rebuilt diesel units. Major improvements in roadway and structures will include $20 million for the second phase of a new computerized classification yard at Barstow, Calif., scheduled for completion in early 1976; installation of approximately 270 main line track miles of new and reconditioned continuous welded rail; improvements and expansion of piggyback facilities at several locations, and improvements to the systems cross-tie treating plant at Somerville.

Desk, shelves built of fir or pine boards add study area, book storage in bedroom; tube light is recessed under shelves.

MR. BUSINESSMAN:

IF THERE REALLY IS NO NEED FOR CONTINUOUS ADVERTISING -

MINISTERS

SHOULD PREACH ONLY ONE SERMON OR SO PER YEAR. PEOPLE ARE AGAINST SIN ANYWAY SO WHY RAP ABOUT IT.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS

SHOULD BE TURNED OFF AT DANGEROUS INTERSECTIONS TO SAVE ELECTRICITY. EVERYBODY SHOULD KNOW IT'S A DANGEROUS SPOT AND THAT OUGHT TO BE SUFFICIENT.

HIGHWAY POLICE

SHOULD STOP DRIVING UP AND DOWN THE HIGHWAYS. NO NEED TO CAUTION DRIVERS BY PATROLLING HIGHWAYS. DRIVERS KNOW THE LAW AND ALWAYS OBEY IT.

TEACHERS

SHOULD NOT REVIEW LESSONS. TELL CHILDREN JUST ONCE AND THEY WILL NEVER FORGET.

BUT

IF YOU ARE ONE OF THE FOOLISH KIND-LIKE THE NOTRE DAME CATHEDRAL THAT HAS STOOD FOR SIX CENTURIES BUT CONTINUES TO RING THE BELL EVERY DAY TO LET PEOPLE KNOW IT IS STILL THERE - AND BELIEVE IN CONTINUOUS PROFITABLE ADVERTISING, THEN YOUR ADVERTISING BELONGS IN ---

Rural Hero Sought For Texas

The search is underway for Texas' rural hero of 1974.

The Rural Heroism Award, sponsored by the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, is presented annually to some deserving person who has performed an act of exceptional bravery during a time of crisis, according to Ben Bullard, Council vice president and assistant safety director for the Texas Farm Bureau.

All entries must be submitted by February 15, to the Rural Heroism Award Committee, Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, P. O. Box 489, Waco, Texas 76703, according to Bullard.

The heroic act or deed must have occurred in Texas during 1974 and must be related to farming or ranching operations.

Nominations should include a written account of the incident and the names of all persons involved. Newspaper clippings and pictures should also accompany the nomination, if available.

The award will be presented March 2 at the annual meeting of the Texas Safety Association at the Shamrock-Hilton Hotel in Houston.

Last year's winner was W. McMichael of Hooks in northeast Texas who attempted, in vain, to save the life of the pilot of a crop-dusting airplane which had crashed.
